About the UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Nestled in the lush Willamette Valley, with an easy drive to both the Pacific Ocean and the Cascade Mountains, the University of Oregon is renowned for its research prowess and commitment to teaching.

OUR HISTORY

Back in 1859, Congress required Oregon’s founders to establish a public university. That university is us. Then, as now, our roots were in our community. Farmers sold produce and mules and held church socials to scrape together $27,500, enough to buy an 18-acre piece of ground that became our campus.

Since then, we’ve awarded diplomas to tens of thousands of people—geologists and writers, painters and chemists, innovators and rule-breakers, lawmakers and dancers, dreamers and doers. We’ve produced eight governors, 18 Pulitzer Prizes, 20 Rhodes Scholars, 13 Olympic medalists, nine Academy Awards, nine Emmys, six NFL Hall of Famers and a Heisman Trophy winner.

Today, more than 24,000 students, from all 50 states and more than 86 countries, study at the University of Oregon.

OUR MASCOT, PUDDLES THE DUCK

38 years after the first football teams took to the field for the University of Oregon, the school had embraced a term that had originated in Massachusetts during the 1700s to describe locals who lived in wet conditions - the Webfoots. But it wasn’t a far leap for the “Webfooter” to become a “Duck”. In fact, before the Webfoot had become the official mascot, one off-campus fraternity started a tradition in the early 1920s of catching a duck and bringing the waterfowl as a spectator to UO football and basketball games. The campus community rallied around the cause, and Puddles – the name bestowed upon the live mascot – became a fixture at football and basketball games. Sports writers also started referring to our sports teams as the “Ducks” because it took up less space.

Few mascots are more iconic or readily recognizable in college sports. After years of conflict and calls for change, the Duck has become a figurehead of Oregon’s athletic programs and the UO campus community in the 21st century.

ARRIVING IN EUGENE

EUGENE AIRPORT (EUG)

Transportation to campus or hotel

The Eugene airport is located just 25 minutes from campus. If you signed up for the homestay program, your host family will pick you up at the airport. Be sure to communicate with them so they know when you are coming.

If you are planning to stay in a hotel, you can:

- Take TAXI, LYFT or UBER
- Take a hotel shuttle by calling prior to your arrival

PORTLAND INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT (PDX)

Transportation to campus or hotel

The Portland International Airport is easy to navigate. However, once you have picked up your suitcase, you need to be ready for more traveling as Eugene is about 200km (2 hours) from the Portland airport.

If you are planning to go to Eugene directly from the Portland airport, we recommend using the following airport shuttle service from your arrival terminal exit to one of the Eugene stops:

groometransportation.com/portland-airport

If you are planning to visit Portland first, we recommend using the light rail MAX or a UBER/LYFT car service to downtown. You can then get to Eugene using the train:

amtrakcascades.com

At the Eugene station you can pick-up a taxi or use UBER/LYFT to get to campus or your housing.

HOTELS & ACCOMMODATIONS

There is a range of hotels to choose from, all within walking distance to the university. If you contact them, they might offer discounts if you mention you are a new University of Oregon student or an international student. For more choices around the city, we recommend using Airbnb. Students should book accommodations as far in advance as possible to get the best price and availability.

REPORTING YOUR ARRIVAL AT UO

U.S. immigration laws require that new students report to the University after their initial arrival in the country. Failure to do so may result in a termination of program and can lead to serious consequences for your legal status and ability to return to the U.S. in the future.

HOUSING

LIVING ON CAMPUS

As you think about where you want to live on campus, you may want to learn more about the communities, room types, and residence halls at the University of Oregon as well as the costs, which are determined by the type of room and meal plan you select.

Living on campus is a great way to make friends and get involved. Not only are you making friends and memories that will last a lifetime, you are creating a foundation for success, connecting with faculty, and transitioning to college life.

First-Year Students

Once you have been admitted to the UO, you can register for housing. First-year students at the UO live in the residence halls. Students living on campus their first year have higher GPAs, higher retention rates, higher graduation rates, and faster graduation times.

International students also live on campus for their first year at the university. Students who want to continue living on campus in the fall need to register for housing by June 30. After this date, students will be placed on an wait list. Those placed on the residence hall room assignment wait list will be notified of their status by August 15. When notified, students on the list could be offered a residence hall room assignment space or offered the opportunity to remain on the list when space becomes available.

FINDING HOUSING

You can start your search for housing from abroad, but be aware that rentals go quickly and are usually not available far in advance. It is best to arrive earlier than your start date with a reservation at a hotel or temporary homestay, then embark on your housing search. The best time of the year to find vacancies is June - September.

BE AWARE

We recommend to NOT rent anything without seeing it with the owner or property manager first. Look at listings online and get an idea of quality, location, and price but don't sign a long-term lease and then not like the location, or the rental itself. You greatly reduce being a victim of a rental scam by dealing in person with the owner or property manager.

Landlords look for verifiable rental history from a third-party landlord, proof of good credit, and documented monthly income sufficient to pay the rent and living expenses. Most refuse to rent to anyone who has not viewed the inside of a rental in person.

International students usually will not have verifiable rental or credit history in the U.S. You must show a landlord that you are a good tenant and capable to pay the rent on time. You must come up with proof of funds and trustworthiness and at the same time exercise caution to avoid a bad rental situation. Ways to achieve this include:

- Provide a copy of your admission to the UO and full UO funding (GE, scholarship)
- Provide a copy of your passport
- Provide the Rental Support Letter to prospective landlords
- Provide a copy of your J-1 or F-1 visa. Most landlords do not know the significance of this visa. Inform them that without proof of sufficient funds, a student would not be granted a visa by a U.S. Embassy. Let a landlord know that a person granted a visa had to show adequate resources to demonstrate ability to pay for all educational costs and living expenses while in the U.S.
- Open a bank account after arrival and place a substantial amount of money in it to demonstrate proof of funds. (Some ways to bring money into the country are through PayPal, international money order, or wire transfer)
- Offer to pay the maximum deposit allowable by law (amount equal to two months rent for an unfurnished rental or three months rent for a furnished rental)
- Provide an "Income Certificate" or "Certification of Deposit Balance" from your country
- Get a parent or guardian to be a co-signer on the loan
- Show evidence of credit card accounts
- Skype or Zoom with the landlord or manager before your arrival

Housing Search Strategies

- 1 Have a cell phone or laptop to inquire about vacancies that become available. Many apartment leasing offices don't answer calls and have voicemail or email only. You will need the phone to receive those returned messages at all hours of the day. You may want to prepare a script when leaving telephone messages for the landlord, mentioning that you are a new international student at UO and that you are interested in the unit.
- 2 Understand Oregon Landlord-Tenant Laws.
- 3 Prepare a Tenant Resume (not required, but recommended).
- 4 Become familiar with the names of neighborhoods. Look for housing in a neighborhood near campus where you will be working or studying.
- 5 Walk, drive, or bike around neighborhoods you like and look for "For Rent / For Lease" signs posted in the windows and lawns of houses and apartments. View the exterior and neighborhoods of properties you like before renting.
- 6 When you find a place you like, do not hesitate to let the landlord know immediately that you are interested. Have a check or money order ready to pay the deposit.

Meet potential roommates in person before making a commitment. You would not want to move in with someone that might not be suitable for you. In fact, because the cost of housing can be high in Eugene, it is common that people will live with several roommates to help share the cost of rent. Do not be surprised if you are asked for an interview yourself from everyone in the house.

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR POTENTIAL LANDLORD

What utilities are included in the rent (water, gas, electricity)?

What is the average cost of gas and electricity per month?

When will the apartment be available?

How much is the security deposit?

What is the parking availability?

Are there laundry facilities located on site?

Tips for Renting

BRING YOUR PAPERWORK

When you are conducting your search for housing, it is important to make a good first impression. When you go to look at a new place, bring your written references from current/past landlords and employers, evidence of solid financial support, a resume with your name and contact info on it, and a copy of your I-20 or DS-2019 (for F-1 and J-1 students). If you are interested in the place, give a copy of these to the landlord in case they will be choosing from other interested people as well.

REVIEW THE LEASE

Carefully review all of the conditions before you sign a lease. Your lease or rental agreement may contain a provision that you find unacceptable – for example, restrictions on guests, pets, or design alterations.

GET EVERYTHING IN WRITING

To avoid disputes or misunderstandings with your landlord, get everything in writing. Keep copies of any correspondence and follow up an oral agreement with an email or letter. For example, if you ask your landlord to make repairs, put your request in writing and keep a copy for yourself.

PROTECT YOUR PRIVACY RIGHTS

Sometimes misunderstandings arise over the landlord's right to enter a rental unit and a tenant's right to be left alone. If you understand your privacy rights (for example, the amount of notice your landlord must provide before entering), it will be easier to protect them.

DEMAND REPAIRS

Know your rights to live in a habitable rental unit. The majority of landlords are required to offer their tenants livable premises, including adequate weatherproofing; heat, water, and electricity; and clean, sanitary, and structurally safe premises. If your rental unit is not kept in good repair, you may have some options, ranging from withholding a portion of the rent, to paying for repairs and deducting the cost from your rent, to calling the building inspector (who may order the landlord to make repairs), to moving out without liability.

TALK TO YOUR LANDLORD

Keep communication open with your landlord. If there's a problem – for example, if the landlord is slow to make repairs – talk it over to see if the issue can be resolved before making demands.

PURCHASE RENTERS' INSURANCE

Your landlord's insurance policy will not cover your losses due to theft or damage. Renters' insurance may also cover you if you're sued by someone who claims to have been injured in your rental due to your carelessness.

PROTECT YOUR SECURITY DEPOSIT

To avoid any misunderstandings, make sure your lease or rental agreement is clear on the use and refund of security deposits. When you move in, walk through the premises with the landlord to record existing damage. If you take good care of your place, you will most likely get your entire security deposit back when you move out.

Utilities

WHAT ARE UTILITIES?

Utilities are the basic services your home or apartment needs to keep it comfortable and functioning. Common utilities include water, sewer, electric, gas, trash, and recycling. Technology subscriptions like cable TV, internet, security, and phone service can also be considered utilities.

WHAT ARE THE COMMON UTILITIES IN AN APARTMENT?

You should inquire about what utilities may be included in your rent because it's common for property owners to cover one or more in your monthly payment. Common utilities include:

WATER & SEWAGE

Essential for flushing the toilet, washing dishes, and showering. This type of utility is typically managed by your landlord, but you may receive a water bill for your individual unit, or it may be split among all tenants in your building.

ELECTRICITY

Your electric bill is based on your energy usage and will likely be your most expensive bill. Inefficient appliances, an A/C unit that's constantly running, lights left on, and devices left in "sleep" mode quickly drive up the cost of your energy bill.

NATURAL GAS

Natural gas might heat your apartment and fuel gas appliances like stovetops and ovens. Depending on your apartment, you might not have a gas bill at all – many buildings use electricity instead. If your apartment uses natural gas, you will be billed based on your usage.

TRASH

Your landlord should have a contract with your city's waste management company to collect tenants' trash and recycling. Often, this cost is handled by the property owner, but you may have to pay a monthly fee. Check your lease to verify who covers waste disposal.

SECURITY

Security is a less common utility, but your apartment complex may include a gated entry or a professionally monitored security system. This could require an additional charge but is likely included in your rent. However, if you want to install your own home alarm system, you are responsible for the cost and should check with the landlord first.

CABLE & INTERNET

You are responsible for acquiring and paying for your own cable and internet. There will typically be hook-ups in the unit, but it will not be set up when you move in.

UTILITIES COST-SAVING TIPS

- Turn off your A/C, when possible
- Replace the filters on your A/C
- Open curtains to let the sun warm your home
- Keep your thermostat at a low temperature
- Use LED lights for holiday decorations
- Use fans instead of A/C and open windows at night
- Air-dry your clothing and hair instead of using electric appliances
- Turn off lights when you leave a room
- Power down electronics

LIVING IN EUGENE

Eugene, Oregon is at the south end of the Willamette Valley where two large rivers and many smaller ones meet, originally home to local Indigenous People. It is also a place of converging ideas. Eugene is full of artists, innovators and visionaries. This destination strives to be welcoming by designing accessibility into growth plans and taking leaps towards a more sustainable future.

The Huffington Post describes Eugene as "the city where everyone runs." From Hollywood's portrayal of Eugene's track stars to the running trails that crisscross the community, Eugene shines as the ultimate hub for runners, hikers and general outdoor enthusiasts.

Eugene has a lot of nicknames because it supports a community that is passionate in all their pursuits. Eugene is "TrackTown USA" for elite athletes around the world, the "Silicon Shire" for leaders in the tech industry, "A Great City for the Arts & Outdoors" for its local residents, "Home of the Ducks" for collegiate sports fans and "Emerald City" because of the lush green fern forests full of trails for exploring in any weather.

Food & Restaurants

Eugene has a wide variety of restaurants with cuisines from all around the world to choose from. You can also order food to be delivered straight to you from many restaurants through these apps:

- Grubhub
- Doordash
- Postmates
- UberEats

WHAT TO EXPECT WHEN DINING OUT

- "Please wait to be seated" If you see this sign, please do not try to seat yourself regardless of how busy or empty the restaurant is.
- An entree in the US is referring to the main course, not a "starter meal/appetizer"
- The tap water in the US is safe and clean to drink. Oregon is known for having some of the freshest tap water. Tap water is also free in restaurants.
- Sometimes you will notice on your menu that select drinks have free refills while you are dining in the restaurant.
- It is very common for your server to approach you several times. They will also remove your dishes from the table as soon as you have finished everything on your plate. If you are still eating, be sure to let them know that you are not finished with the dish.
- Giving and splitting a bill: As soon as your plate is almost empty, the waiter may give you your bill, or they may ask if you would like dessert. Please do not feel rushed, you can still sit and chat at the table for as long as you'd like.
 - Most restaurants do not mind splitting the bill; just let the waiter know when they give you your bill. Many times the waiter will ask you if you are paying together or separately before they give you the bill.
 - Venmo: If you have a smart phone and are dining with your friends, you can use an app called Venmo. This app allows you to send money to your friends without fees.
- Gratuity/Tip: It is customary in the US to tip your waiter whenever you eat in a restaurant. Typically, you will be expected to tip for any restaurants where you are sitting down and served. It is also customary to tip about 10-15% at cafés. If you are eating at a fast food restaurant, you are usually not expected to tip.
 - The amount that you tip can depend on how "good" the service was. The general range to follow is between 15% (average service) – 20% (great service) of your bill. For example, if you enjoy the service and your bill was $20, you would tip an additional $4.00 and pay a total of $24.00.
 - If you are paying by debit/credit card, you will see a spot under your total where you can input how much you would like to tip.
 - If you are paying in cash, you can leave the tip on the table. Another option is to include the tip in your payment and say something like, "Please keep the change."
 - For large groups of diners, some restaurants might automatically charge a gratuity fee. You DO NOT need add a tip on top of this.

Drinking

21 LEGAL DRINKING AGE IN THE U.S.

Some restaurants may convert to bars after a certain time in the evening and restrict anyone under the age of 21 from entering. When you order a drink, you will often be asked to present your photo ID as proof that you are of legal drinking age. If you don't have a driver's license or state ID, your passport can be used for this. Please don't lose it.

It is illegal to buy alcohol for anyone under the age of 21. Additionally, you cannot carry an open bottle of alcohol in public places, and you can be arrested for this, even if you are 21 years of age or older. This is something that students have gotten in trouble for in the past.

MONEY & BANKING

When you arrive in Eugene you will need enough money for immediate expenses including hotels, food, and basic needs. If the University is paying you, it may take more than a month until you get your first paycheck. Do not bring large sums of cash. There are many safer options available. Contact your home country bank for details about the following:

FOREIGN CURRENCY EXCHANGE

Currency exchange facilities in the U.S. are less common than they are in many countries and changing money at U.S. banks can be quite expensive. Some banks do exchange foreign money, but only if the currency is in notes, not in coins. The Eugene airport does not offer foreign currency exchange services. You should plan to convert your foreign currency at your international port-of-entry.

OPENING A BANK ACCOUNT

Upon arrival, you will want to open a bank account as soon as possible to keep your money in a secure location. You can open a U.S. bank account with a minimum of $100, your passport and your I-20 or DS-2019.

If you are planning to have money transferred or wired from abroad, be aware that there may be a delay of a few days or weeks before you can access your money. Inquire with the bank on wait times based on the type of deposit you will make.

CREDIT CARDS

If you have no credit history in the U.S., it may be difficult to obtain a credit card. You can establish a credit history by obtaining a "Secure Credit Card" which will require you to deposit money for its usage. Within a few months of using the Secure Credit Card, you may be eligible for other credit cards. However, you may need a Social Security Number to be eligible to apply.

CHECKING & SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

We recommend that all students open a checking account to pay bills such as rent or utilities. Most checking accounts include an ATM / Debit card so you can withdraw money from your account and use it for purchases. If you are working, you can request that your salary be directly deposited into your checking account every month (a safe and convenient option). Be aware that some debit cards have credit card logos on them (such as Visa, MasterCard etc.) and can function like a credit card for purchases. However, the payment is drawn from your checking account directly.

PAYING YOUR TUITION AND FEES

University of Oregon has partnered with Flywire to provide our international students with a secure payment method that simplifies the payment process. With Flywire, you can pay online from banks and countries around the world, usually in your home currency.

- Pay with accounts in your home country, in your currency for most countries.
- Offers payment methods like bank transfer, credit cards and e-payments (Alipay/PayPal) making the process familiar and easy for you.
- Avoid unnecessary bank fees and receive favorable foreign exchange rates.
- Track the progress of your payment anytime. Flywire's multilingual CUSTOMER SUPPORT is available to help 24x7 using multiple channels.

University of Oregon Flywire payment site where you will follow the instructions provided by Flywire to complete the payment.

TELEPHONE SERVICES

Making calls in the U.S. is confusing! A U.S. telephone number has 10 digits. The first 3 digits is called the “area code” and the last 7 digits is the “number.”

TYPE OF CALL

Life-threatening emergency

Crimes, Suspicious or Urgent Situations on Campus

Directory Assistance

Calling inside U.S.

Calling an on-campus number

HOW TO CALL

911

This is the national emergency number for police, ambulance services, and fire department.

541-346-2919

If you are on campus, this is the UO Police dispatch number (24 hours). Save on your cell phone.

411

An operator will give you phone numbers for people and businesses. There is a $1.25 fee.

011 + country code + city code + phone number

See below for “collect calls.”

1 + three digit area code + seven digit phone number

For example, 1 (xxx)xxx-xxxx

Call only the last five digits of the phone number

For example, the number for the ISSS office is 541-346-3206, so you would dial 6-3206.

Call 988

This is a national network of local crisis centers that provide free and confidential emotional support to people in emotional distress 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

IDENTIFICATION

PASSPORT & ARRIVAL DOCUMENTS

Use your passport as your main proof of identity until you can get your UO ID card or your Oregon's Driver's License or Social Security Card (if desired).

As soon as you are able to obtain other types of photo identification, put your passport in safe storage and carry a photocopy of it. Having photocopies of arrival documents will also help you considerably when replacing them in the case of loss or theft.

SOCIAL SECURITY CARD / SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER (SSN) FOR WORK

A Social Security number (SSN) is required for everyone who works in the U.S., including non-immigrants. It is not a work permit, nor is it a health insurance benefit. The SSN is used by the government to collect taxes from employees' paychecks. Certain non-immigrants (such as F-1 and J-1) are not required to have Social Security taxes deducted from their pay. If you are planning to work in the U.S., you must apply for a Social Security Number. An SSN is issued once per lifetime. If you have previously had an SSN, but do not have the card or do not remember the number, you can apply for a duplicate card if you meet eligibility requirements. F-2 dependents are not eligible for SSNs.

The following people are eligible to apply:

- F-1 students with a job offer letter and work permission
- J-1 students with a job offer and a work authorization letter from their DS-2019 sponsor
- J-2 dependents with work permission from the USCIS (EAD)
- Individuals with other types of immigration status allowing employment

Most businesses do not need an SSN from you unless it is for credit purposes (loans, credit cards, etc.) If a business requests an SSN solely for ID purposes, you can request that the business create an ID for you. You do not need an SSN to open bank accounts. If a bank clerk insists on an SSN, ask to speak to a manager.

HOW TO APPLY

Applications made too early may be rejected or delayed much longer than the usual process. Students must have an on-campus job or Graduate Employee position and must be physically present in the U.S. to apply for an SSN. The Social Security Administration (SSA) is required to verify your legal entry into the U.S. before issuing an SSN. Follow these instructions on how to apply.

SSN SAFETY

Although an SSN is only meant to be used for tax and government purposes, it is often used by financial institutions, businesses, and others as a unique identification number. Because the SSN is a unique ID, it is often the target of "identity theft." Therefore, you should be very careful about where and to whom you give your SSN.

- Never carry your Social Security card or number with you
- Be very careful with any forms, applications or other materials that may have your SSN on it
- Never give your SSN to someone who calls you by phone (this is a scam!)
- Never reply to email or web sites that request an SSN

Eugene is one of the most bike-friendly towns, with plenty of bike lanes. Biking is also the easiest and most affordable mode of transportation. However, bike theft is also very high in Eugene, so make sure to lock up your bike very carefully. Bicycle cages and lockers are available on campus for rent.

You can buy a used bike on Craigslist or Facebook Marketplace, or buy a new bike at any of the great bike shops in Eugene.

PeaceHealth Rides also has bikes available in ports around town when you need one for short, point-to-point trips. Special discounts are available to UO students, faculty, and staff.

The UO Bike Program in the EMU offers a wide variety of resources, from fix-it classes to biking trips.

ltd.org/park-ride-locations

PARKING METERS

Operate from 7 a.m. - 6 p.m., Monday - Saturday. All meters are FREE after 6 p.m. and on Sundays

PARKING ON CAMPUS

Almost all parking at the UO requires some type of payment or permit. There are two main types of parking on campus: Hourly parking and permit parking.

The majority of parking on campus is managed through license plate recognition, so you will need to know your vehicle's license plate before getting a permit or paying for hourly parking. Please make sure that your license plate information is correct and follow all parking rules and posted signs to avoid a parking ticket.

No parking is allowed on campus from 12 a.m. - 5 a.m., except with an appropriate overnight permit.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

CULTURE SHOCK

Culture shock is the natural reaction to a series of transitions that occur when we are uprooted from our cultural environment and transplanted into a new situation where the language, gestures, customs, signs and symbols that have previously helped us to make sense of our surroundings suddenly have no meaning or have new meanings. Most of all, we have lost our social supports (family, friends, classmates, coworkers) and we must begin again in a place where things are unpredictable. While the words “culture shock” imply something immediate, the onset is usually gradual and cumulative. Everyone experiences culture shock differently.

SUGGESTIONS FOR A SMOOTH ADJUSTMENT

- Remind yourself that everything you're feeling is perfectly normal
- Be patient and give yourself the time to work through this process
- Keep in touch with your friends and family back home via email, text, or telephone
- Surround yourself with familiar items, such as photos or ornaments
- Maintain contact with your ethnic group as well as local students
- Take good care of yourself. Eat well, exercise, learn relaxation and stress reduction techniques
- Look for activities that will put you in contact with other students who share your interests
- Maintain your self-confidence; follow your ambitions and continue your plans for the future
- Find out what campus services offer help for international students dealing with culture shock
- Maintain a sense of humor. Be able to laugh at yourself and at the predicaments you get into
- Resist the temptation to constantly disparage the host country. Begin to consciously look for logical reasons for anything in the U.S. that seems strange, confusing, or threatening. There are reasons why Americans do things differently than people do in your country
- Talk to someone about your experiences. Do not be afraid to talk to family, friends, members of your host department, a trained counselor or the staff at the ISSS office, especially if you are thinking of leaving the U.S.

MEDICAL FACILITIES & EMERGENCIES

UO HEALTH SERVICES

The UO provides primary care, mental health services and counseling, and other clinical services for all UO students, staff, and faculty. Their website also contains resources on health insurance, urgent care and hospital facilities in the area.

FAMILY & PARENTING

SPOUSES & PARTNERS

If your spouse/partner accompanies you during your stay in the U.S., you will need unique services and resources to help them feel at home. Living in one of the UO family housing units is a good way to find community and supportive resources.

EDUCATION

If they decide to pursue a degree program while in the U.S., speak with an advisor in ISSS well in advance to make sure it is legally possible to do so. For example, F-2 visa holders must change their visa status to F-1 before beginning a full-time study program. This can be a lengthy process (up to a year), and planning is necessary to make sure a change of status is completed smoothly and on time.

EMPLOYMENT

Getting a job in the U.S. is a good way for them to become integrated into the community and gain valuable experience. Dependents with J-2 status are allowed to apply for a work permit to work in the U.S. However, many dependent visa types are NOT allowed to have paid employment in the U.S. such as F-2 and H-4. Check with the ISSS office about your dependent's work eligibility before he or she accepts any paid job offers.

J-2 Employment

J-2 family members (spouse or child dependents age 14+ of J-1 visa holders) are eligible to apply for a work permit and work full time in the U.S. Although J-2s are free to seek employment anywhere they like, the purpose of the employment should be for cultural enrichment and should not be based on financial need. Be aware that J-2 dependents cannot apply for a work permit until they are physically present in the U.S. and they have received an employment authorization card (EAD) from U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). Employment authorization cards can take three or more months to process from the time of application and will need to be renewed yearly.

UNPAID OR VOLUNTEER WORK

If they are not eligible for paid employment due to their visa status, unpaid or volunteer work may be a good alternative. As a volunteer, they can gain experience and become a part of the community.

INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE

Intimate partner violence and emotional abuse are behaviors used by one person in a relationship to control the other. Violence can be criminal and includes physical assault (hitting, pushing, shoving, etc.), sexual abuse (unwanted or forced sexual activity), and stalking. Although emotional, psychological and financial abuse are not criminal behaviors, they are forms of abuse and can lead to criminal violence. Although both men and women can be abused, most victims are women.

Family & Child Laws

It is important that you know some of the legal resources available to you as well as the laws designed to protect children in the U.S. Violations may result in the payment of a fine or arrest.

ACCEPTING PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Non-immigrants are not eligible for public assistance in the U.S., such as Medicare and Medicaid. However, the costs of health insurance for family members can be high. If you choose to risk not having health insurance coverage, you may be encouraged by medical staff to pursue public assistance. This does not necessarily mean that you are eligible. If you accept public assistance then leave the U.S. and want to return, you may be stopped at the U.S. border and denied entry until the amount of public assistance you received has been repaid.

HAVING A BABY & U.S. CITIZENSHIP

If your baby will be born in the U.S., they will be considered a U.S. citizen. U.S. laws do not require that your baby give up citizenship from your home country (if they are considered as such by the laws of your country), but your home country may not accept the dual citizenship status. Contact your home country embassy in the U.S. to register their birth and if you have questions about citizenship. Parents of a U.S. citizen child are eligible to apply for U.S. permanent resident status when the child is 21 years old. To travel and re-enter the U.S., your child will need a U.S. passport.

CAR SAFETY SEATS

Anyone riding in a moving car must be wearing a seat belt. Children must be secured in an appropriate child passenger restraint (safety seat or booster seat) until they are at least 6 years old or weigh at least 60 lbs. Infants under 20 lbs. must be secured in a rear facing car seat.

UNATTENDED CHILDREN

There are strict laws about leaving very young children alone, either in cars, in public, or at home. It is a crime to leave anyone in a car who is incapable of getting out without help. It is considered "child neglect" to leave very young children unattended (such as outside of a restaurant) or home alone. It is better to awaken a sleeping child than to risk their possible harm and/or face arrest.

CHILD ABUSE

Child abuse is a very serious crime in the U.S. Child abuse is defined as any act or failure to act (neglect) on the part of a parent or caretaker which results in death, serious physical or emotional harm, sexual abuse or exploitation or any act which presents an imminent risk of serious harm. In the U.S., the following people are required by law to report suspected child abuse: Doctors, nurses, dentists, mental health professionals, social workers, teachers, day care workers, and law enforcement personnel.
